acob Nelling, murderer of Ada Atkinson—Threatened Lynching.

Infuriated Mob Surrounds the Jail—The Militia Called Out—The Mob without a Leader.

LAFAYETTE, Oct. 17.—Jacob Nelling's confession of the murder of Ada Atkinson continues to create great excitement at Fowler. There was an exciting scene when Nelling was removed from the courtroom to the jail. The spectators rose and were ordered to sit down by the sheriff. They did not obey, but moved toward the prisoner muttering. He was taken out of the rear door which was immediately locked, and a dog barked shrill and frantic. "No man leaves this courtroom for five minutes!" The sheriff placed Nelling in the most secure cell in the jail and went inside with a twelve-man guard force of eight men. A mob of 300 men surrounded the jail all night, but seem to have no leader. Militia from Lafayette is expected soon. The mob has built a scaffold and provided a gallows. A gang of fifty men have gone to get railroad cars to batter down the courtroom of the jail.

THE SHERIFF STANDING FIRM.
FOWLER, Oct. 17.—The mob numbers 600 or 700. The men are wild with excitement and fear that Nelling will escape the gallows on the plea of insanity. The sheriff and his assistants stand firm, refusing to deliver up the prisoner. A rush was made by the lynchers and a struggle ensued, resulting in the repulse of the mob.

LATER.—The sheriff and ex-sheriff pleaded earnestly to the crowd to dispense and the best citizens of the town went in to the jail, begging them to let the mob go. The mob is in regular leadership or it would have accomplished its object. As it is, the would-be lynchers have dispersed with threats of hanging the murderer at some future time.

THE MILITIA CALLED OUT.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17.—The Commercial-Gazette's Lafayette, Ind., special says: Adjutant-General Carnahan has been directed to take military and to Fowler. The men are so scattered he cannot get them together quickly, but will start on the early train. The latest information from Fowler is that a crowd of several hundred will surround the jail. The mob has been repulsed or still lacks leadership.

CIVIL RIGHTS.

Deep Feeling of Colored People over the Recent Decision.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—Interviews with prominent representatives of the colored people in this city show them to be amazed and indignant at the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States on the Civil Rights bill. Rev. Alexander Walters says it will be disastrous to the Republican party. P. A. Bell, the veteran soldier of the Elevator, says: "I am an abolitionist, and have been a Republican for half a century, and my first vote in 1828 in New York State under the property qualification act. I voted for John Quincy Adams. Since then I've been loyally supporting things, but now that they are changing me, I don't know." He added, "I am getting too old to change much now, but the young folks will take the lead. I will not vote for any man who sat in Washington and tried to place them in the same fix we were in twenty years ago." The federal officials are not yet in a position to decide, as they are in the future, people will be counted on in the future to vote with the Republicans.

THE FEELING IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—A Times Washington special says: The rich rights decision is the talk of the town. The colored people have decided to hold a meeting in Lincoln Hall on Monday night to express their views on what they must do now in view of the decision.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

News of an Indian Outbreak in Arizona.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—An Examiner special from Guthrie, Arizona, says that a party of railroad men, four miles south of Clifton, discovered twenty Indians encamped on an old trail leading south to Mexico. The men fled to their camps, but are not poorly armed, and a raiding party, reaching the April 1882, would not be a surprise. It is reported that a large band of Indians have left the railroad. Returns will be sent to the railroad camp by a special engine.

Faithfulness Rewarded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—John L. Brooks, who lately died in this city, leaving property and funds valued at $125,000, has bequeathed it all, with the exception of $90,000, to Mrs. Jane Seiter, and an annuity of $600 to his sister, Mrs. Jane Morris of this city. The bequest is made for painstaking service and fidelity to the interests of the testator, the testator fearing that his property should go to those who were devoted to him during his lifetime rather than to those far away and from whose lives and interests he has long been removed.

FORGE BOTTOMS UNDER THE AMERICAN FLAG.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The report of the special committee on the revival of the American merchant marine to the Chamber of Commerce resulted in the adoption of the recommendation that citizens of the United States be permitted to purchase foreign vessels and place them under the American flag for employment in the foreign carrying trade with this country.

A WAR OF FREIGHTS.

The Action of the Northern Pacific Makes it Imminent.

CHICAGO, October 17.—The Northern Pacific has issued the following: "The Northern Pacific has given formal notice to the Transcontinental Association that it will not be a party to the removal of the special contract system which has heretofore been in force between the Union and Central Pacific Companies and the Southern Pacific. The Northern Pacific Railroad recognizes the fact that there are some classes of freight which will go by way of Cape Horn, and of course a contract system does not consider that the special contract system can ever be arranged to prevent it." It is the general opinion that this action on the part of the Northern Pacific will be followed up and is likely to lead to serious complications in the Pacific Coast business.

Truthfulness is Success.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Four hundred persons are prostrated with trichinosis in ten villages in Saxony. Sixty sufferers are in a hopeless condition. Deaths from the disease are occurring every day.

In view of the Mexican measles being immediately created, some Los Angeles parties are making preparations to develop some mines in the Canada de Oro, some seventeen miles north of Tucson. (—Tucson Citizen.)

FORECASTINGS.

Our October days are not as bright and cloudless as they usually are in this State. There are indications of early rains. The cool weather is regarded by many as prognostic of an early and wet winter. A wet winter is one of the greatest needs of California. The crops grow in the two partially dry years which we have last experienced have drained the earth of its moisture, so that there is but little left in the soil. Without an abundance of rain the coming year must be one with an almost total failure of crops, outside of irrigable districts. But there is no necessity for the indulgence in the prophecy of any such evil. The clouds hang over us suggestive of coming rains. The atmosphere is cool like that which usually precedes a winter of rain, and the weather prophet sees numerous signs that are full of hopefulness for the approaching season. Given the full amount of rainfall, and we may reasonably look forward to an increase in our prosperity, and a continuance of our rapid growth.

Under favorable conditions, dependent upon the season, California may anticipate for another year a much larger immigration of that class of people necessary to the development of her agricultural and other industries. She will see also large tracts of her waste lands cut up into small farms, and a largely increased acreage planted to grains, and occupied by vineyards and orchards. Capital and labor are pouring into the State, and as they are increased the work of development and prosperity will be proportionately greater. The tide of immigration is not all in the direction of Southern California, although she will doubtless have her share. Many new-comers are settling in the northern section of the State, Shasta, Modoc, Lassen, and many other of the northern counties are attracting immigrants who are in search of lands. If they bring with them the habits of industry which belong to the East, and are content to "labor and to wait," a few years will see them in possession of comfortable homes, and a reasonable competency. An abundance of rain will set the wheels of industry in motion all over the State, and make old and new-comers rejoice in the land that they have chosen.

Between the covers of "Copp's U. S. Salary List and Civil Service Rules," a book of 160 pages, is embraced a fund of useful and valuable information. The work is prepared by Hon. N. Copp, a lawyer of Washington, D. C., whom the writer knows as a capable and conscientious compiler. All the Government salaries are given, from President Arthur's $50,000 to postmasters with $500, officials of the Treasury, Interior, War and Navy Departments, Custom Houses, post offices, and fully 20,000 federal offices arranged by State and Territory. Specimen examination questions for admittance to the Civil Service throughout the country are added. The Times acknowledges receipt of a copy.

The little confederation of Switzer-land is wise beyond most of the nations of the old world in matters of education. It has faith in the safety of a government based upon intelligence, and relies more upon the schoolmaster than the general to perpetuate its institutions. The people do not believe in a standing army, but believe the money which it would take to support one a better investment for the education of the masses in the primary and higher schools, all of which are under State management. It is a policy which would make the world better if it were more generally adopted.

The Chicago Tribune has made a suggestion looking toward the solution of the Mormon problem, which has in it the elements of common sense and practicability. It is that the entire horde of polygamists be disfranchised, and the Territorial Government conducted on the same plan as the District of Columbia, where suffrage is not allowed. The treasonable utterances of the Mormon leaders at the late conference in Salt Lake would be a sufficient justification for such measure on the part of the Government, which Mormonism defies and threatens.

The total number of bunches of grapes on the great vine at Hampton Court this year is about 1,800, or 130 in excess of last year. The vine was planted in 1765, from a slip off a vine at Valentine's, in the parish of Ilford, Essex, and has been known to produce as many as 2,200 bunches in one year. We believe the Santa Barbara people used to claim that the Big Grapewine, which was dug up and taken to the Centennial for exhibition, was larger and more grapes than the Hampton Court vine. The Santa Barbara vine left a scion which is now switch.

THE Northwest News, published at Portland, Oregon, has this surprising statement in a late issue, which will be news to the average Californian: The fear of earthquakes "is a terror which hangs over the head of the average Californian, and which worries him by day and disturbs his dreams by night." The imagination of that editor would bring him out ahead of Ananias in a race for the truthful statement of facts.

East Oakland is to have added to its other industries a cotton factory. The establishment will employ two hundred and fifty hands. The bulk of the raw material will come from Texas and other States, though of this state, West, will furnish what material can be grown upon it. Oakland's industrial interests are growing rapidly.

THE telegraph announces that Dr. Koch, of the German Commission went to Egypt to investigate the cholera epidemic, reports that he discovered that the cholera is due to a living, thread-like microscopic organism, resembling that seen in cases of pthisis. Now let science set itself to work to find a remedy.

Human nature is a funny thing sometimes incomprehensible. John Robinson's circus took in $8,000 a day or two before the show, parties endeavored to raise money for the yellow fever sufferers in Sonora—they got $300.—[Arizona Citizen.]

But the yellow fever sufferers are not a circus.

CONNECTICUT is enforcing her Sunday laws—the old Blue Laws of 1670. This may compel at least an outward reverence for the day, but whether the old Puritan veneration for the Sabbath can again be established through such methods is a question.

A SCHOOL of Pharmacy for women has been founded in Louisville, Kentucky. It is a new departure, but there is no reason why it should not prove a success. A woman botanist and a woman chemist are among the teachers.

JOHN ROBINSON's show people were agreeably surprised in Tucson that admissions were not paid in Mexican money. They telegraphed the good news to "the old man."

THE New World thinks that Hoadly is not the man for the Democratic party's candidate in 1884, but it must be Cleveland. And that after the Ohio election!

SENATOR McDONALD says the result of the Ohio election was all owing to the temperance men, which is equivalent to saying that it will have but little bearing on the next National contest.

ALBUQUERQUE and Tucson both want paper-mills. They have the cactus and the railroad facilities to make the enterprises a success.

A RED-HOT DOUBLE DEFENSE. From the Cotton Hall-Tropic.]

The lying, sneaking, cowardly, base-born wretches who were so highly entertained at the last fair repeat in Tucson that they were cases of oafish and yellowface in Colton, in order to scare people away from attending to the number greatly controllable, deserved mortal spite against the town, and in so doing greatly wronging an institution that had done true merits in the cause given and earned the admiration that was given and earned before making the tour of this coast, ferreted out and given a coat of tar and feathers, and drummed out of the country by the honest people.

ENCOURAGING BEN BUTLER. From the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.]

The yell of execration with which the suggestion of Butler as the possible Democratic candidate for president next year is received by the Southern press is a mark of lively apprehension of what may come to pass should he carry Massachusetts at the November election. A man who can conquer the respectability of the old Bay State need not despair of overcoming the prejudices of the average Southern politician.

DOUBTS THE SOFT IMPENCHMENT. From the Sacramento Journal.]

The instigation of the Phoenix Herald that the Tucson journalists wrote editorials on the circus to get a free pass from the great jealousy. The circus didn't go to Phoenix, you know.

SLAVERY THE INEVITABLE RESULT. Litchfield (Conn.) Independent.]

This disposition of land to English capitalists should be discouraged, as nothing else is so sure to bring on a state of things like that which now exists in Ireland.

BEE'S LOVE OF HOME. From the Sacramento Journal.]

It was the newly wedged bee that after a week of the hive on a wet day, sang on his return, "There's no place like comb."

THE MERCHANTS OF Laredo, Texas, are getting down on the nickel. A writer thus states the case: "It is all very well as small change, but when a man carries with two or three donkeys loaded with it to pay a debt, and all hands in the stock look on their much-needed nests with contempt in day in counting the stuff, even the patriotism of Mexicans—who do not highly value time-wages in the operation."

AI SYRACUSE, N. Y., Friday night, Hail Stock and Owen, New York, published a book of useful and valuable information. The work is prepared by Hon. N. Copp, a lawyer of Washington, D. C., whom the writer knows as a capable and conscientious compiler. All the Government salaries are given, from President Arthur's $50,000 to postmasters with $500, officials of the Treasury, Interior, War and Navy Departments, Custom Houses, post offices, and fully 20,000 federal offices arranged by State and Territory. Printing and Binding.
There is nothing in the printing and binding line which is more than a printing and binding House, the oldest and largest in the city. We have the means to execute in a manner equal to that of any of the best in the State. Books, manuscripts, maps, charts, drawings, leather, &c. &c. are to be equal to that done in San Francisco.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

(This is the Times-Minor's Public Forum upon which all who have anything pertinent and interesting to say, on topics of current interest, may have the privilege of giving their independent opinions to the people, the writers being responsible for their own sentiments and statements. Correspondents are politely urged to be concise, clear, and to the point; to write plainly, and upon one side of the sheet only.)

Reply to Mr. Lichtenberger.

To the Editor of the Times—Sir: In conclusion to Mr. Lichtenberger's reply in your paper of the 17th, I would say that the awarding of the premium to the Columbus buggies by his committee has "fixed the status of that class of Studebaker" as far as I only am concerned. He admits the Studebaker "works an enviable name," and says, "the Columbus buggy work has established a reputation all over the United States as being superior to others for the money." We might say the same of Cincinnati work with equal truth, did not Mr. Lichtenberger understand that a diploma was to be awarded to the cheapest buggy "for the money." The diploma list called for a dogcart for the best buggy, and I accept the example given as advertised. If the public are "entirely unconcerned" as to the quality of work in the market that they keep Mr. L. fully occupied, I am sorry to say I am satisfied. The point I raised was the best work exhibited awarded the diploma? But it appears it was not. It was the best work for the money, according to Mr. Lichtenberger's statement. I accept the "fund of information" concerning "the workings of award committees" that I am "ignorant of." I would say, please let me in on the same blind list of the proceedings of said committees, so far as buggies and wagons are concerned, at least.

Respectfully yours, S. W. Lichtenberger.

Los Angeles, Oct. 17, 1883.

A Complaint from the Duarte.

To the Editor of the Times—Sir: Allow me a little space in your paper to inform the public how it was that Mr. Andrew Garey obtained all of the prizes for oranges and lemons at the late Fair. Just before the opening of the Fair, Mr. G. came to the undersigned among others at the Duarte, and said that his father, Mr. Thos. A. Garey, who was the Son of the late Mr. Garey, had won the San Joaquin Orange Pavilion, and had him, in great haste, to get up a collection of fruit from the different growers here, as he had little time—so little time that Duarte as nothing—so little time that the prizes.

With this understanding, Mr. Garey about 100 specimens of our fruit, only about one-third of which appeared on the table; the remainder having been distributed among others. Mr. Garey also collected specimens from Mr. Davison, Mr. Lacey, Mr. Wise, and Mr. Barnes, and perhaps others, who, when I have not heard, with the same understanding on their part, and then deliberately takes the credit (to say nothing of $80 in money) for the whole display.

As far as I am concerned, we were perfectly willing that our names should not appear on the cards (although our fruit made at least one-half of the exhibit) but we are certainly with Mr. Garey in his desire to get the credit of growing it when it is well known to every one living here that he had no oranges on his place that he was not well fit for the market, as it lies above the ground, and his own supply of water was not sufficient to make his fruit more than about two inches in diameter.

Very respectfully yours, F. A. BURTRUSS, M. D., for Wilson & Buttold.

DUARTE, L. A. Co., Oct. 15, 1883.

Causes That Kill Mankind.

To the Editor of the Times—Sir: The yellow-fever scare that is about and in Mexico is sufficiently fatal to satisfy even the most inhuman, yet its deadly work is assisted and encouraged by the community everywhere. Only a few weeks ago, the Legislature of California relinquished the social advantages of so-called civilization to enable them to live near enough to the south to insure immunity from disaster in time of epidemic disorders.

The facilities for scalping offered in the conglomeration known as city life are too tempting and offer too great premium on crime, disease and death. It is time to stop this. The killing tendencies if people were satisfied with abnormal gains. It is not a healthy condition of society upon which the dead lawyer, Mr. Garey, has been brought. How, then, can it be expected that the harmonies will be in the ascendant? The use of alcohol, tobacco, tea, coffee and opium has prepared mankind for slavery by wholesale whenever the conditions are favorable. When France erick the Great instituted the tobacco parliament he only followed in the steps of his predecessors farther back in time. The delusions of power. It is a power of the delusions of the policy of the few to enslave the many that they are easily managed. Upon this principle the烟 and tobacco companies have come to be the most powerful factors in government. Alcohol is a terrible element, but its work is not an subtle and insidious, but of nicotine and tobacco, the most terrible. In the vicinity has been frisked away by place, individual, and social, and squandered. The only basis to fight disease successfully is from the vitality in the human system. The only social and mental rest that gives so solid a hold on the vitality, either by irritation or depletion, are only traitors in the camp.
